LARGE PREMIUMS
TO OUR FRIENDS
Hitherto we have never offered any one a premium for helping to extend the circulation of The Tribune. We have printed the cheapest newspaper considering the outlay by which it is produced that was ever issued in any country selling it for little more than the cost of the white paper have employed no agents to canvass for subscribers, and have allowed no compensation (beyond a copy of our paper) to any of the thousands of generous friends who have annually taken care that the number of copies of our several issues circulated in their respective neighborhoods should be at least maintained and if possible increased We have been sparing even of verbal thanks to these friends, but have none the less realised the fullness of our obligation for their earnest unselfish painstaking, persistent efforts
We propose for the present season only—in view of the hardness of the times and the fact that we are enabled to buy white paper somewhat cheaper than we have hitherto done or can hope to do after the close of the War—to make some small acknowledgment—not so much a recompense as a slight testimonial—to those friends who shall see fit to exert themselves to obtain subscriptions (whether original or renewals) to our Weekly and Semi Weekly editions We do not know that we could offer any thing of similar value more generally acceptable and useful than a Gold Pen of the best quality and finish We propose therefore to forward to each person who during the two months ensuing shall send us subscriptions and payments for The Tribune as follows

REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

To the City Council

The Superintending School Committee beg leave to submit the following Report

The Tabular View annexed exhibits, in a concise form the number of Schools taught in the City during the past year their grade and character, the length of each the names of the several teachers and amount of their annual or weekly compensation, and the whole and the average attendance upon each school

Mr David Worcester was re-elected by this Board Superintendent of Schools at the commencement of the year, he has devoted his whole time, and brought his valuable experience in the art of teaching into requisition to promote the interests of our schools For a detailed statement of his department, reference may be had to his able Report, which we trust will be laid before the public

The Committee, though opposed to a frequent change of text books felt bound, early in the year, to consider the propriety of a change of Arithmetics, as, since the substitution of Eaton's for Greenleaf's Common School, there had been a growing dissatisfaction A very satisfactory arrangement was made with the publishers of Greenleaf about equal to an even exchange, and the Common School Arithmetic was restored We also substituted Colton & Fitch's Primer of Geography in the place of Mitchell's, in the Primary and Intermediate grades as the latter abounds in words and phrases above the comprehension of beginners

We also introduced the Progressive Speaker as a text book in reading, in the High Schools and the Progressive Speller into all the schools in the city, and provided for an even exchange in both cases

The High School for Girls, the past year, has been under the efficient and thorough instruction of Mr R B Shepherd, as Principal and Miss H M Thurston Assistant Three half days were afforded the school for examination, and we think it sufficient praise to say the school never appeared better

The attendance on the school is worthy of especial note as presenting a larger average than ever before attained to wit—in the Summer term, ninety three out of ninety five, the whole number, and in the Winter term, seventy six out of eighty This cannot be surpassed if equalled It speaks highly for the discipline and interest of the school

A new feature of the examination was the conferring of Diplomas upon the graduating class numbering seven who had completed the English and Classical course The recitations of this class were very superior, and won the highest encomiums from visitors during the examination

We would recommend the conferring of Diplomas as appropriate and just, and in accordance with a Rule of the Board involving slight expense

The High School for Boys has been interrupted during the year by a change of Principals It commenced the school year with entirely new teachers and advantage was taken by the school of this fact to the prejudice of the Principal, Mr W T Parker who was a teacher of experience, of gentlemanly manners and scholarly attainments but who did not evince the tact requisite to overcome the obstacles to success — There was much rude and improper conduct manifested by the school in doors and out during the term, and it was carried so far as to be destructive of public and private property and to involve breaches of the peace The patience and judgment of the Committee were often severely taxed

At the close of the term arrangements were made to remodel the school house, to accommodate the two Select Schools for boys in accordance with the recommendation of the Superintendent and our predecessors The two Select Schools for Boys were united under the charge of Mr Burleigh Pease The Boys High School was transferred to the room underneath formerly occupied by the Select School and the upper room devoted to the Select School By this arrangement one teacher was dispensed with, and the advanced class in the Select School being transferred to the High School, made the size of the latter respectable, and diminished the number in the former so as to render the school manageable

After much deliberation the Committee elected Mr F E Tower Principal of the High School, and he entered upon his duties at the commencement of the Fall Term, a total stranger to the scholars though he had formerly been connected with the school as a pupil He had the advantage however of the acquaintance which Miss Hallowell his Assistant had obtained of the school Mr Tower has exhibited much energy and tact in his discipline, and much thoroughness in his instruction He found the school very lax, in many respects A habit prevailed of studying out of school during school hours, which was demoralizing to the school, and this has been broken up Classes consisting of but two or three, and in some cases but one individual, existed requiring as much of the attention of the teachers as large classes To remedy this, no classes of a number less than six members, were allowed A disposition to shirk the lessons resulting in very imperfect recitations was also visible in the school and has been remedied by Mr Tower

A whole day was devoted to the examination of the school and notwithstanding the drawbacks alluded to the classes appeared very creditably—in Mathematics and Latin particularly so We have no doubt that Mr Tower is amply competent to bring the school up to the rank desired He is ably seconded by his thorough and faithful assistant

The aim of the Committee has been, the past year, to give prominence to the higher English branches, in this school rather than the Classical

The apparatus for the illustration of principles in Chemistry and Philosophy, belonging to the Girls High School, should be made available to the boys If to be used by one school only, we think it would be more useful to the boys

It is quite observable that the two High Schools are much smaller than formerly, though in the Girls School the small number graduating this year, and the large classes going out of the Select schools numbering about sixty, most of whom will probably enter the High School will make the school larger than for several years past To what is this reduced number attributable? Have we fewer scholars or have we become poorer, and unable to continue our children in school long enough to complete the course?

It may be true, in regard to the boys, that comparatively few contemplate a Collegiate course. The vast majority seek only a higher English education Is it best for this number to attempt a classical course Could not their time be more profitably expended in study [illegible] higher English branches, such as navigation, engineering, book keeping and other practical studies, which may aid them in every day life It is true, that by the Rules of the Committee, provision is made in the High Schools for a course of study exclusively English the study of the foreign languages being optional with the parent and scholar But this privilege, if known, is not so generally exercised as might be profitable The standard of admission to the Boys School might be somewhat lowered so as to relieve the Select School, and make room for the large number graduating from the three Grammar Schools, who cannot be admitted to the Select School, under the present arrangement, for want of room Otherwise, it will be necessary to re-establish the Select School, discontinued in the summer, or make some provision for the retention of a portion of the boys in the Grammar Schools, where they now are

The small number of boys seeking admission to the High School and the falling off of those entering before completing their course is owing much to the habit of parents taking their children from school to receive the benefit of their services in stores and other employments Is it wise thus to do, when a little more effort and a little more self denial, in most cases, would secure all the advantages of our excellent school system—the best legacy in the power of parents to confer upon their children?

We are aware that on the plan of economy, a discontinuance of the High Schools is urged Can we afford to economise in this direction? To do so would be to mar the fine fabric of our school system The High Schools are the cap-stones of the edifice—they cannot be dispensed with.

Early in December, upon the recommendation of His Honor the Mayor, the City Council instructed the School Committee to introduce the military drill into such of the public schools as might be deemed expedient. The Committee concluded to make the trial in the Boys High and Select Schools, and invited Capt David Bugbee, and Lieut. N S. Harlow, and Sargent Henry McLaughlin, to take charge of the matter. The former took the High School—the two latter, the Select. Two hours a week, on Wednesday and Saturday forenoons, were devoted to the drill, at Gymnasium Hall The Committee are highly pleased with the proficiency which has been made, in both schools.

An opportunity was afforded the parents to view the drill at the City Hall, at the close of the term and Capt Bugbee's company won the encomiums of old soldiers for their military bearing, and the skill with which they executed the evolutions

The military instructors have given their time gratuitously, and are entitled to the thanks of the city The boys of the High School, and their instructor, are so much interested in the matter, that they propose continuing their drill during the vacation

The expense connected with this experiment has been [illegible] twenty-five dollars

Many advantages of such a drill could be enumerated but they are too obvious for recital Other cities in our State have followed our example in this respect and we recommend a continuance of the system at least for the present

The union of the two select schools for boys under Mr Pease, has proved successful but further arrangements are necessary to provide for unanticipated wants Thus far, ample accommodations have been afforded and the examination of the School was highly creditable to the teacher The School is under excellent discipline

The Select School for Girls under charge of Mr J. E. Littlefield, as Principal and Miss Helen M F[illegible], as Assistant has maintained its high reputation, during the year That this school is appreciated by the parents, is evident from the press of scholars seeking admission to it every year

Select School for Girls, No 2 kept by Miss Deborah B Hersey is in no way inferior to No 1 It is much smaller and on this account presents some advantages not afforded in a more crowded school We were pleased with the familiarity and lady like character of the school, on examination day, partaking rather of the ease of the drawing room, than the school house

There are six Grammar Schools three for boys and three for girls

Miss Ellen O Costellow assisted by Miss A C Pitcher, has had a very successful year in teaching Her school of boys has been full and well governed and taught Her examination was very satisfactory and we consider her school a model one

We can speak in equally high praise of Miss Lymburner's school for boys, on Centre street The recitations were all prompt and satisfactory and the school was characterized for smartness and good order

These teachers demonstrate that boys in this grade of schools, can be successfully taught and governed by females of the right sort

The other school of this grade for boys, was taught by Mr J H Stuart, assisted by Miss Mary E Benson The school gave evidence of faithful work on the part of the teachers

We introduced into this school, (and also into Miss Dillingham's Intermediate) for trial, Greenleaf's Intellectual Arithmetic, an advanced book compared with Colburn and were highly pleased with the appearance of the class in it.

Mr Stuart is indefatigable, both in school and out and the parents of many scholars owe him a debt of gratitude for the faithfulness with which he has labored to procure the attendance of those disposed to stay away from school His Assistant has labored successfully and earnestly

The school for girls under charge of Miss Mary E Costellow, assisted by Miss Vesta E Cutter has maintained, in every respect, its high character This school and its teacher require no praise from us to make them a reputation

The other school, of the same grade, in Abbot Square, kept by Miss Welthie A Burr, has been highly successful the past year There is a healthy tone and influence, with good scholarship pervading it, which makes it rank second to none of the grade

The third school for girls, of this grade on Union street was taught by Miss Mary J McLaughlin This is her second year in the school She is a lady of talent and originality and has endeared herself to her pupils, but the school evidently has not kept up its former reputation for thoroughness in recitations

Of the Intermediate and Primary grades it is unnecessary to speak in detail We feel obliged to allude to several, to speak in commendation or dispraise

The Intermediate on State street taught by Miss Morison who is an experienced teacher, did not appear quite up to the mark, on examination day The teacher desired the opportunity of another trial but the engagements of the Committee rendered this impossible, before the close of the term

The other schools of this grade and all the Primaries, appeared finely The examinations were so interspersed with singing and other exercises, as to make them quite entertaining to visitors The teachers are all faithful and well adapted to their duties

There are four mixed schools of Primary and Intermediate grades, to wit—Miss Foster's West Bangor, Miss Brown's Pond street, Miss Wheeler's City Farm, and Miss Chalmers' Lime street

The West Bangor school has been much interrupted by sickness, but the school has been a profitable one At the examination, a large number of parents were present, and all attested to the usefulness of the school

Miss Wheeler, City Farm, is especially entitled to credit, for the care exercised by her in preserving the school property—every thing under her charge being kept neat and tidy and at no expense to the city We fear that teachers are remiss in this particular and would especially enjoin this quality upon them.

A mixed Intermediate and Grammar school was established on Larkin street to meet a growing want in that locality and Miss Ellen B Cummings elected teacher The school is an excellent one, and established on a permanent basis

A new Annual School has been created in the Central District out of three Suburban Schools and Miss Josephine Holt placed over it.—This arrangement it is thought, affords advantages commensurate to the inconveniences occasioned to a few most remotely situated

Of the Suburban Schools two have been interrupted in their Winter Terms by a change of teachers The Stillwater Avenue School was broken up by the sickness and death of Miss Semantha Smith She was a good teacher and the school lost a faithful laborer

The Osgood District School was commenced by Miss Thompson, but she soon resigned, and a male teacher, Maj Oakman, of Garland, was employed His services were very satisfactory

Two other male teachers were desired and secured in Suburban Schools viz —in the Sherburne District Mr Wingate E Gibbs and in the Tyler Mr Hannibal Kimball The schools in these Districts are large and embrace scholars of advanced age and attainments Female teachers do not give the satisfaction to these Districts that males do The remainder of the Suburban Schools have been satisfactory and profitable

Two Apprentice Schools have been taught, under the charge of Mr L Forrest and Mr George A. Snow By the arrangements of the year two good school rooms were reserved for these schools, and teachers of experience secured to take charge of them yet the schools have been less useful than common We think the original design of these schools, to furnish instruction in the winter season when Apprentice boys can be spared by their masters, to this class of boys, is not met by these schools or, if met those designed to be benefitted do not avail themselves of the advantages A very few apprentices are found in these schools—less than twenty—this year, but a class of boys who attend no school during the year but this, and most of whom are lawless, evil disposed and backward in their studies, come in at first, and then fall off during the term leaving, at the close, not enough to represent the classes with which the school started

It is possible that a much less sum, devoted to one Evening School, would be more profitably expended

On the whole, we consider the school year just closed a remarkably successful one The schools seem well established and no extraneous efforts have been needed to sustain them With a very few exceptions, our corps of teachers cannot be surpassed, and we are justly proud of them

In the year to come, the call will be urgent for an economical administration of the School Department, and it should be met We think quite a saving may be made, without much detriment to our school interests But we earnestly enjoin upon all to continue to bestow upon this important interest of our city, the highest favors compatible with a due regard for the best good of all

In Peace or War, on land or sea,
Our flag, the sign of the free,
Bright emblem of Columbia's glory!
Shall tell to coming years the story,
How, stout of heart, and strong of hand,
The patriots of our native land
Bore it, the nation's hope and life,
On tented field, mid fearful strife,
Still on! 'till through the sulphurous cloud
It broke in triumph, Treason's shroud!

Revolution in Naval Warfare.

The recent startling enterprise of the rebel "Merrimac" bids fair to precipitate the time when iron-clad war vessels are to hold naval dominion, and the nation which is most speedy and efficient in their construction will stand at the head of the naval powers. Although England and France had the start of us by a few years in the initiation of this new class of war steamers, the contest which we are now waging, as it places us in actual present need of such vessels, will probably soon put us ahead of those great powers, both in the numbers and the efficiency of our mail-clad vessels, and if our Government is wise it will endeavor to maintain that ascendancy. England, though so recently boasting of a navy ten times more numerous in vessels and guns, will then be practically no stronger than our own country. Her proud title of "Mistress of the Seas" will then be contested, and her declarations upon maritime rights will no longer be law to the world. In six months or a year we shall probably have more iron-clad vessels afloat than either England or France, and they will be more efficient than those of any other nation. The "Stevens Battery," almost complete in New York, it is thought will be swifter, more powerful, and safer as a sea-boat than the famous English "Warrior" or "Black Prince," or the French "La Gloire"—and we believe there are several others as large as the Stevens Battery to be built, besides fifteen or twenty small and large, on the Ericsson principle. For immediate use a number of our powerful and heavy steamers are to be plated. It is reported that the steamship Vanderbilt, one of the largest, strongest and swiftest of American vessels afloat, and the Ocean Queen, also a large and powerful craft, are being fitted up as "rams," at the expense of the General Government. The vessels will be strengthened with heavy timbers and iron butts and braces throughout, the boilers and engines will be protected with bales of cotton packed for a broad space about them and the outside will be covered with iron plates about three inches in thickness. The bows will be armed with sharp wedges or plows to pierce the sides of the enemy, as the Merrimac served the Cumberland. The vessels will carry several heavy guns, but their special function will be to run down and sink hostile floating batteries. The immense size, great height and speed of the Vanderbilt especially, would seem to make her a terrible opponent in an encounter of that kind.

The list of vessels already contracted for by the Government, or proposed, is said to be as follows—The Monitor, the Galena, built at Mystic; the powerful vessel at Philadelphia, the Adirondack, the Stevens Battery, the Naugatuck, twenty iron-clad gunboats ordered by Congress, twenty iron clad frigates recommended by the Senate Naval Committee, the iron ram, do, two gunboats ordered by Massachusetts, the Roanoke to be plated, six Monitors—total 56.

THE WINCHESTER FIGHT. It is evident, says the Journal, that the rebels had designed a telling surprise on Gen Shields's division, whom they hoped to overwhelm and thus to get up a reaction just at this very needy time with them. Last Friday the rebel General Jackson was reported at Mount Jackson, forty miles south of Winchester. But he could not have been far from the latter place, lying in ambush. But he waked up the wrong passenger decidedly, when he undertook to defeat Gen Shields, one of the very best fighters in the Union army. The 15,000 rebels were routed by the 8000 Federals, and sent off even more rapidly than they had advanced. Here is another proof of the fact that the main thing to ensure a Union victory is to bring the opposing forces together. The result will add another to the heavy demoralizing [illegible] which have recently fallen upon the rebel army of Virginia.

The total amount of allotments here given is $46 306,25 per month, or $92,612,50 for each bi-monthly payment, making $555,675 annually.

Allotment commissioners are now at Port Royal and Ship Island, and will soon visit the army of the Potomac to secure additional allotments from our regiments there, and when every regiment has been fully canvassed, if the regimental officers render such assistance as the State has a right to expect from them, the annual sum will probably be double the present amount. I regret to say that many of the officers have declined to render any assistance to the allotment agents, while sutlers and pay mothers have actively interfered to prevent the men, by false statements and misrepresentations of various kinds, from sending their money home. Hereafter cases of interference or gross neglect will be exposed, so that the public can see who stand between the soldiers and their families in this respect.

You will notice that the 15th is the banner regiment, the 13th next, of the infantry. The Cavalry averages more than either. F.

CONTRABAND NEWS. The local weekly papers in this State are nearly all of them publishing letters from soldiers in some of the Maine regiments, which the daily papers are not even allowed to copy without risk of a precept from Washington. For instance, the last Saco Democrat, now before us, a paper of secession proclivities, has a letter from Ship Island, giving information as to all the regiments now there, —being intelligence quite as much 'contraband' as some recently given by the Boston Journal, for which the publishers were threatened with suppression. It seems hard that loyal papers are not allowed to print news which appears in secession organs unrebuked.

A serious accident occurred in Manchester, Mass., on Saturday evening. The oldest person in town, Mrs Rachel Lee, aged ninety-nine years and six months, fell while crossing the room, catching her foot in the edge of the carpet and broke her hip bone. She had been knitting a pair of stockings for the soldiers, which were nearly finished.

Parson Brownlow made a speech at Nashville on the 17th inst., in which he said:

"A short time since, I was called upon by a little Jew, who, I believe, is the Secretary of War of the bogus confederacy. He threatened to hang me, and I expected no more mercy from him than was shown by his illustrious predecessors toward Jesus Christ. I entered into a long correspondence with this specimen of expiring humanity, but from mercy or forgetfulness, on their part, I was permitted to depart with all my documents in my little valise, which I hope to publish at no distant day."

A GREAT SLEIGH RIDE. On Friday of last week, the citizens of East Corinth, having determined to improve the last of the sleighing, organized a sleigh-ride as only our country friends know how to do it. A correspondent informs us that 120 persons went on the "time," starting for Dover and Foxcroft in a grand procession, with the star-spangled banner and the East Corinth Band at the head. Before arriving a snow-storm came upon them, but they persevered, and had a good time generally, with supper, music, &c., the larger part remaining until the next morning.

AN ELEGANT BOOKCASE. We noticed yesterday, at C W Small's Furniture Ware Rooms, on Main street, the most elegant gotten up bookcase we have ever seen in Bangor. It is of solid wood, is handsomely carved and ornamented, and in every respect shows skill and good taste. It was designed and manufactured by Mr Small and his brother, for S H Dale, Esq., and may be examined at the rooms to-day.

POLICE COURT. On Tuesday John Downey was fined $10 and costs for selling liquor at his place on Willow street. In default he was committed.

☞The new gunboat Penobscot, built at Belfast, made the run from Charlestown Navy Yard to Fortress Monroe, in 70 hours, proving herself to be a splendid vessel.

☞The daily press is occasionally furnished with an item by telegraph, advising that certain contraband news published in some "enterprising" metropolitan journal should not be copied. It seems to us that if any paper is allowed with impunity to publish contraband news, others should be allowed the poor privilege of copying, and if not allowed to copy, the original offenders should be made examples of. It is unjust to the loyal press—loyal to the war regulations—to allow a few papers to have a monopoly of news which all are anxious to see, but which all good citizens are willing to wait for, especially when its early publication is deemed prejudicial to the public interest.—Bath Times.

A SUDDEN NEWSPAPER CHANGE. The Argus has the following:

A friend has shown us a copy of the Newbern (N C) Weekly Progress of March 18th, which is a curiosity. Its editor was a rank secessionist, and had made up two pages of matter for his paper, giving the southern account of the Hampton Roads naval battle, the proclamation of the Governor of North Carolina for the people to enlist, and other matters. The last article is headed the "Enemy in Sight." And it was true, the enemy of secession was in sight, and before the editor put his paper to press, he had to decamp and the Union army entered Newbern. Mr Edward Little Davenport, a native of Portland and a printer, was in that army a member of one of the Massachusetts regiments, and he very soon found out the printing office, added a postscript saying "we have taken Newbern," &c., signed it "Yankee printer," and printed off an edition of which the copy we have described, formed a part. Mr Davenport intends to proceed with the business and issue the paper, of course making it an advocate of the Union.

☞The Lewiston Journal says that if the tax reported in Congress, on the items of leather, boots and shoes, should pass to be a law, it is said a single firm, doing business in Auburn, would have to pay an annual tax of ten thousand dollars.

ARREST. Captain James C Rogers, of Freeport, commander and sole owner of the schooner Arbutus, was arrested by U S. Marshal Clark, Monday evening, on a charge of wilfully attempting the destruction of his vessel on her voyage from Cardenas to Boston. The schooner was first reported as having sprung a leak, and to have been run ashore by the captain. Subsequently the schooner was picked up at sea and taken into Cardenas, and it is said augur holes were found in her bow.

Captain Rogers arrived at this port Monday, as passenger in the brig Ambrose Light. His vessel and cargo are said to be insured for quite a large amount. He will have an examination before U S Commissioner Geo. E. B. Jackson, to-day.—Portland Adv.

General Buell, in a letter to J. B. Underwood, Chairman of the military Committee, Frankfort, Ky., states that the negroes taking refuge in his camps have been invariably returned to their masters on application. The new article of war, not approved by the President, forbids the return of fugitive slaves.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Post says that General Fremont, instead of being practically shelved by his [illegible], as his enemies allege, has been selected to conduct one of the most important movements of the war, as future events will undoubtedly make clear.

SUDDEN DEATHS. Dr Hall, in his Journal of Health, says that very few sudden deaths which are said to arise from disease of the heart, do really arise from that cause. To ascertain the real origin of sudden deaths, the doctor says the experiment has been tried in Europe, and reported to a scientific congress held at Strasbourg. Sixty six cases of sudden deaths were made the subjects of a thorough post mortem examination. In these cases only two were found who died from disease of the heart. Nine out of the sixty-six died from appoplexy, while there were forty six cases of congestion of the lungs; that is, the lungs were so full of blood they could not work, there not being room enough for a sufficient quantity of air to enter to support life. The doctor goes on to enumerate the causes that may produce congestion of the lungs. They are—cold feet, tight shoes, tight clothing, costiveness, sitting still until chilled through, after being warmed by labor or a rapid walk, going too suddenly from a close heated room into the cold air, especially after speaking, and sudden depressing news operating on the blood. These causes of sudden death being known, an avoidance of them may serve to lengthen our valuable lives, which would otherwise be lost under the verdict of a heart complaint. That disease is supposed to be incurable and hence men may not take the pains they would to avoid sudden death if they knew it lay in their power.

The St. Louis Republican corrects some mistakes in the papers resulting from calling the forts built just above the Island, on the Tennessee shore, the "Fortifications of Island No 10," and explains the recent reported evacuation in the following statement:

These forts are five in number, and very strong—much stronger it is said than the battery erected on the upper end of Island No 10. The land around them, however, is described as very low and marshy, affording no good camping ground near by. The main forces of the enemy were therefore, encamped on Island No 10. When Gen Pope cut off the retreat of their flotilla, it was evident that their transports must eventually be abandoned or destroyed. In that case, their troops, if left on the island, could not escape. They were, therefore, ferried across by their transports to the main land, and those not required in the forts were encamped in their rear. This is what Gen Pope meant when he telegraphed that the enemy had evacuated the island. He did not mean that the fortifications which had been constructed some distance above this island for its defense, had been evacuated, nor that his troops had occupied that place.

The Baltimore American says there is a general impression at Fortress Monroe that the Merrimac will not come out again, as the fact of her invulnerability against the Monitor is a matter of great doubt with the rebels.

There was a "general impression" at Fortress Monroe that she would not come out at all—but she did—and to our cost. Better not trust again to rebel reports. Deception and lying are their best points.

The latest private advices from Richmond show that the rebels are crowding troops down upon the York and James rivers, as if they expected an attack from that direction.

Particulars of the Battle at Winchester
Severe and Bloody Fight—An Irish Battalion Refuses to Fire upon our Troops—The Merrimac out of the Dry Dock—The Monitor Ready to Meet Her—Beauregard near Corinth, Miss.—Great Battle Expected there—Rebels Removing Cannon from Island No. 10.

NEW YORK, 26th.

The Herald's Washington Despatch says that on Sunday morning at four o'clock, the rebels received reinforcements under General Garnett, numbering 5000 men. The Union forces did not exceed 10,000 men, and with the exception of about 500, were of General Shield's division exclusively. At half past ten the enemy made a feint on our left command by Acting Brigadier General Sullivan, opening a heavy fire of artillery, while the real attack was directed against our right, with the object of flanking it. Gen. Kimball commanded our right, where the heaviest fighting was done. The enemy were strongly posted in the woods behind a stone wall, and their artillery was posted on an eminence on both sides of their left wing. Our whole artillery force was engaged. It consisted of four batteries of 24 pieces each.

The contest raged furiously till 3 P. M., the fighting being done chiefly by artillery and musketry, at a range of not more that 300 or 400 yards, and after much loss the rebel infantry opposite our right now debouched from the roads, and attempted to capture Doane's battery by a charge. The first effort was nearly successful, but a heavy discharge of grape compelled them to retire in confusion. A second and weaker attempt likewise failed, and the enemy fell back with heavy loss behind the stone parapet.

General Tyler now ordered his brigade to charge the enemy's batteries on the left, and a most deadly encounter followed. Twice our men reeled under the storm, but in the third effort they routed the rebels with tremendous slaughter and loud cheering, capturing two of their guns and four caissons.

Our loss in these struggles was heavy. Out of 300 men engaged in the 84th Pennsylvania regiment, 26 were killed and 83 wounded. Col. Murray fell leading his gallant corps forward, and many other dashing officers were killed or wounded. The 5th and 8th Ohio shared the glory and the losses with the 84th Pennsylvania and 3d Virginia regiments, who also suffered. Lieut. Col. Thoburn, who commanded this corps, was severely wounded leading it to the last charge.

The enemy's killed and wounded strewed the ground in confusion, and their left wing was utterly broken, and their centre was wavering.

On their side the 4th and 5th Virginia regiments suffered the most. The former was terribly decimated. Several attempts to rally their right wing failed, and to add to their confusion the Irish battalion of 150, when brought forward and ordered to fire upon the Union troops, refused, and a rebel regiment immediately drove this gallant little band forward, but could not compel them to fire upon the Union army. Forty corpses of the 150 afterwards strewed the field.

In the meantime the rebels gave way on their left and centre, with a loss of 700 killed and wounded, and 286 taken prisoners; besides these about 1500 muskets were taken, and many other valuable trophies. Our loss does not exceed 100 killed and 300 wounded.

Special despatches from Washington state that the Secretary of War, late Monday night, concluded to forego his purpose to order the arrest of the editors of certain Boston and New York papers.

Advices from Fortress Monroe state that the Merrimac is out of the dry dock, and prepared to run out. The Monitor is ready for her.

Gen. Sumner has issued an important order prohibiting acts of marauding. He assures the people of Virginia that their only safety is in the general government, and it will be his constant endeavor to protect them in their persons and property to the extent of his power. The General has also determined to accept no resignations in his corps during the campaign. A persistence in the offer of resignation will be followed by arrest.

ST. LOUIS, 26th.

The Republican's Cairo despatch says persons who left Memphis report Beauregard, Polk, Cheatham and Clark, at or near Corinth, where it is expected that a great battle will soon be fought.

The rebels at Island No. 10 have not burned their transports and barges as previously reported, but were transporting cannon and ammunition from the Island to the main land. They communicated by signal lights with their forces at Union City night before last.

WINCHESTER, 25th.

The twelve rebel regiments engaged were all Virginians. They had Ashby's cavalry, two 8 gun batteries, one 6-gun battery and one 4-gun battery—making 26 guns in all, among which were some that were captured at Bull Run.

Four color bearers of the 5th Ohio regiment were severally killed, when Capt. Whitcomb seized it sword in hand and was shot through the head

A rebel youthful soldier who received two rounds in the breast, when approached by one of our officers, inquired if he knew Gen. Banks. On receiving an answer in the affirmative, he said "Tell him I want to take the oath of allegiance, for I have three brothers in the Federal service, and I want them to know that I die true to the Union."

Gen. Shields' arm was badly shattered and owing to an imperfect setting must be reset to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, 26th.

The following despatch was received from Gen. Shields by Senator Rice, dated Winchester to day: On the morning of the 23d my command, 7000 or 8000 strong, was attacked near this place by Jackson with 11 regiments of infantry, an Irish battalion, about 1500 cavalry and 28 pieces of artillery.

After a severe fight the enemy was put in complete route, leaving two pieces of cannon, four caissons, and a large number of small arms. Three hundred prisoners were taken. Our loss is 150 killed and 1000 wounded.

FORTRESS MONROE, 25th.

The U. S. steamer Cambridge arrived from the blockading off Beaufort, N. C., this afternoon which place she left Sunday evening.

The rebel steamer Nashville escaped from the harbor Tuesday night, 18th, having run the blockade.

The only U. S. vessels off that place were the Cambridge and bark Gemsbok. The blockading vessels had news of the capture of Newberne, and were on the look out for the Nashville, but they were not numerous enough to prevent her escape.

The Gemsbok first saw her, and immediately telegraphed to the Cambridge. The latter followed her and fired a number of shots, with the hopes of getting her into a fight, but the superior speed of the Nashville soon put her at a safe distance. Two shots from the Cambridge are supposed to have struck the Nashville.

The bark Glenn, which had been blockaded in the harbor of Beaufort for some time, was set on fire by the rebels and was burning when the Cambridge left. She is supposed to have been fitted out for a privateer. The burning of this vessel was doubtless preparatory to the evacuation of Beaufort.

Fort Macon had not been blown up at last accounts.

WASHINGTON, 26th.

The House having addressed an inquiry to the Secretary of the Navy, he responded to-day by endorsing a letter from the Assistant Secretary of War, Mr. Tucker, in which the latter says:

"A very large transportation by water being required by Major General McClellan, the Quartermaster General detailed Capt. H. C. Hodges, Assistant Quartermaster, to this city. I was appointed to assist him. All the parties who have offered suitable vessels, in answer to the advertisements for transports, were requested to meet us. Without further resort to the newspapers, it was made as public as possible that the Government was in want of such transportation, and desired to deal directly with the owners. A very large number were chartered by direct negotiation with the owners, while some made their application through ship brokers. A decided preference was given to the former. Capt. Hodges and myself received only our regular compensation as Assistant Quartermaster and Assistant Secretary of War respectively. No other persons have been acting under the authority or by the direction and permission of Capt. Hodges and myself, to effect such charters, and consequently no compensation has been or is to be paid for such services; and no person acting directly or indirectly for the Government has charged the persons for whom such vessels were chartered any percentage on the amount of the charter, or any other compensation."

Frequent applications are made as to the disposal of public lands in the Territory of Nevada; but as the land districts have not yet been organized therein, no species of float claims can be located. There seems to be no doubt that those who at present occupy lands will be secured to their locations by future legislation.

A Democratic conference was held last night, which continued in session until a late hour. The call was signed by all excepting four or five of the members of Congress who were elected as Democrats.

Representative Corning presided and representatives Pendleton and Sheild acted as Secretarys. An injunction was placed on all present not to reveal the proceedings. It is, however, ascertained from private conversation to-day, that the conference was principally confined to the consideration of the resolutions reported from a committee of which Mr. Vallandigham was chairman, declaring that the restoration of the Union and the maintainance of the Constitution would require that the organization and principles of the Democratic party of the United States should be fully and faithfully adhered to, and inviting all citizens, without distinction of section or party, to co-operate with the democracy in the constitution and restoring the old Union. A committee of one from each State represented by a Democrat, either in the Senate or House, was appointed to report at a future conference. The names of the members are not yet known. It is understood that several members from the border States were present and participated in the proceedings. The entire number at the meeting was about 40. The proceedings are reported as having been harmonious.

The Senate, to-day, in executive session, confirmed the nomination of Colonel Gordon Granger of the 2d Michigan cavalry, to be a Brigadier General of Volunteers.

WASHINGTON, 26th.

The following despatch was telegraphed to General Shields to-day:

War Department, Washington, 25th.

Brigadier General Shields—Your two despatches relative to the brilliant achievement of the forces under your command have been received. While rejoicing at the success of your gallant troops, deep commiseration and sympathy are felt for those who have been victims in the gallant and victorious contest with treason and rebellion. Your wounds, as well as your success, proves that Lander's brave division is still bravely led, and that wherever its standard is displayed, rebels will be routed and pursued. To you, and the officers and soldiers under your command, the Department returns thanks.

[Signed] EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, 26th.

A despatch received to-night from Cairo, bringing the latest intelligence from Island No. 10, says that the main works of the enemy on main land are overflowed, and nearly the whole of the Mississippi valley in that vicinity. This delays effective operations by our forces at present.

The promotions made by the Secretary of War for gallant services at Fort Donelson and Mill Spring, having been confirmed by the Senate, the commissions have been signed by the Secretary, and will soon reach there thus honored.

The official report from Pea Ridge has not yet been received, nor has that concerning the recent action near Winchester.

Gen. Davis of New York, has been assigned to duty in Gen. Halleck's department.

Gen. Hunter is on his way to take command of his department of the South.

The Secretary of War has issued an order stopping the release on parole of the prisoners taken at Fort Donelson. It is known that agreement for the exchange of prisoners was made some weeks ago, under the direction of the Secretary of War, by General Wool with General Cobb by which all our prisoners were to be delivered the next day under a flag of truce at Craney Island. A boat was sent to receive them, but no prisoners were brought from Norfolk. The same was repeated [illegible] without success. Explanations were demanded by General Wool, but none [illegible]. On account of this breach of faith by the rebels, all release or exchange will be refused by the Government.

The members of the Van Wyck investigating committee have all returned, and Colonel Van Wyck has joined his regiment.

The following prisoners were to-day released on parole: O. Allen Scent and, Jackson Benneman, James Connor, John Benson, and George M. Gormley. Two others, B. M. Jenkins and F. M. Ellis, were recommitted for further consideration.

NEW YORK, 26th.

Steamship Columbia, from Havana 22d, has arrived this evening. She brings Vera Cruz dates to the 14th.

The English troops had left. They arrived at Havana and sailed for Bermuda on the 18th.—A number of them were sick.

The Mexican barracks, eight miles from Orizaba, were blown up, accidentally, and 1300 dead bodies had been exhumed from the ruins.

The French division of troops left Orizaba on the 8th for Tehuacan.

A battalion of French Chasseurs had arrived, and a battalion of Spanish Chasseurs sailed on the 20th from Havana for Vera Cruz

Honduras dates of the 22d ult., state that the army will uphold Castellanos.

A severe gale prevailed at Havana. Bark Major Norton was lost near Sagua, on the 14th; part of cargo saved; insured in Boston. Schr. Mira, from Mayaguez for Halifax, was lost at sea.

It was reported at Havana that the schr. Wide Awake had been captured while trying to run the blockade, and that Yancey, disguised as a sailor, was caught, and is now a prisoner at Fort Jefferson.

Key West steamer Constitution arrived at Havana from Ship Island on the 19th, and sailed for Key West and Fortress Monroe.

It was reported that Porter's fleet had passed the Southwest Pass.

No rebel vessels have reached Havana since the last date, and only three small schooners of secessia were in port.

BALTIMORE, 26th.

The Fortress Monroe correspondent of the Baltimore American, gives the report of two intelligent contrabands, relative to the condition of the Merrimac. She returned to Norfolk leaky, and with six feet of water in her. Six steamers towed her up, and it was feared at first that she would go down before extra pumps could be rigged on board to relieve her. Her fires were extinguished shortly after hauling off from the Monitor.

These contrabands also positively assert not only the death of Buchanan, but that of the Lieutenant commanding on Sunday, with seven seamen, and a number wounded.

They postively assert the death of both the Captain and Lieutenant. Possibly Lieutenant Minor, her second officer, and not Jones, is meant by them.

The Monitor stands in the Roads this side of Sewall's Point, with steam up and ready for action. She is in fine condition.

It is rumored that a considerable portion of Yorktown is burnt. A large fire was visible in the direction on Sunday night, which was tho't to be something more than burning brush.

A large fire was seen to-day in the neighborhood of Newmarket Bridge, which seemed to be quite extensive.

The Cambridge reports relative to the Nashville, that she loaded with valuable cargo of cotton and naval stores. She ran the blockade on Tuesday night last. The night was dark and the lights were extinguished. She was fairly abreast the Cambridge before discovered.

On Sunday the Chippewa, a fast steamer, arrived to take the place of the Cambridge.

Fort Macon and Beaufort are still in possession of the rebels.

On Sunday night the Sawyer guns at the Rip Raps made some capital shots at Sewall's Point. One shell filled with new liquid fire exploded in the midst of the rebel parade ground. It is believed it did considerable damage. The rebels have brought their cannon here to fire, cannonading the channel from Sewall's Point around the point facing the Rip Raps. They fired at the Rip Raps but the ball fell short 50 yards.—It was a good line shot but the calibre was insufficient.

NEW YORK, 26th.

Steamship China, with Liverpool dates of the 16th, has arrived.

Parliamentary proceedings were of slight importance

Mr. Milner Gibson, in reply to an inquiry stated that no information had been received by the Government as to a practical increase of duties of imports into the United States, consigned, upon such duties being paid in specie.

During the debate on the vote for mail subsidies, Mr. Barton showed the losses of the system, and advocated a reduction of subsidies as the contracts fall in. He opposed any new contracts for America, and favored open competition and the discontinuance of subsidies.

Mr. Peel admitted they were a great burden, but were not thrown away, and as the present contracts fell in, every care would be taken to reduce them.

The vote of £996,000 was agreed to.

The London Morning Herald thinks it is a pity the Federals do not make use of the first auspicious occasion, presented by the recent successes, for concluding peace; and says the Federals have it now in their power to retire from the desperate strife with something like honor.

The Daily News argues that by simply refusing any sort of participation in the slavery question, the Federal Government will practically doom slavery to extinction.

The Times speculates on the difficulties of a settlement, and points out the debt, tariff, taxation, and the fugitive slave law, etc., as the rocks ahead when it looks for a day which shall give two friendly Unions.

The French Corps Legislatiff continued to debate the address.

The paragraph relating to Mexico was adopted after some opposition.

The amendment of five liberal members to the paragraph relative to America had been withdrawn on the ground that part of it was rendered unnecessary by decisive declaration of the Government in favor of neutrality.

France is reported to have urgently called on Spain to at once put an end to the misunderstanding between the Spanish and French commanders at Vera Cruz.

The Greek insurrection is gaining ground.—The government had called out 30,000 men to complete the army.

NEW YORK 26.

Fifty Massachusetts soldiers who were wounded at Newbern, left for Boston via Shore route this morning, and 35 more go in the 3 P. M. train by way of Springfield, for stations along the route.

The ladies of New York were very generous with the sufferers, they supplied them largely with delicacies.

The correspondent of the St. Louis Republican of the 21st, says General Pope captured a rebel steamer which tried to run the blockade, and by means thereof was rapidly transporting his troops across the river to attack the enemy in the rear.

LOUISVILLE, 26th

The Louisville and Nashville Railroad is so far repaired that the running time between the two cities is reduced to 12 hours.

NEW YORK, 26.

All the Massachusetts wounded were sent to-day to their homes, and the Mayors of Springfield and Worcester, the Selectmen of other places and Governors Andrew and Sprague were notified of their departure by Colonel Howe. Numbers of ladies [illegible] visited the [illegible] soldiers, and assisted [illegible] feeding [illegible] last night and this morning.

WINCHESTER, VA., 26.

Captain O. H. Brown of the 4th Ohio regiment is deputy Provost Marshal.

A committee of the citizens, the Mayor and the Provost Marshal have buried all the rebel dead which have been brought to town—85 were buried on the battle-field, and 123 on the road-side between here and Strasburg.

Two hundred and thirty-five prisoners have been sent to Baltimore. Several are still here, and others are on the way here.

A messenger from Strasburg states that Gen. Johnson was to have joined Gen. Jackson at that place, but subsequently sent word that he could not do so until Monday night. Their combined forces would have been from 25,000 to 30,000. They were arranging to keep Gen. Banks from moving to another point. Jackson being impressed with the belief that nearly all of our troops had left, hazarded the fatal advance alone.

Thousands of persons are visiting the battle ground to bring off mementoes of the terrible fight.

Our pickets are now six miles beyond Strasburg. Jackson is not in sight.

All the fences, trees and ground along the route show the terrible effect of our artillery on the retreating enemy.

Gen. Shields's arm has been re-set. He is comfortable, and will probably be able to resume active operations in two weeks.

PHILADELPHIA, 26.

The remains of Col. Slocum, Major Ballou, and Captain Tower have reached here. They will lay in state in Independence Hall until to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, 26th.

The amendments thus far made to the tax bill are not decisive, but merely the action of the committee of the whole on the state of the Union, the House having finally to act on them. It is believed that Congress will, in conformity to the bill proposed by the Secretary of the Treasury, increase the tax on tobacco and whiskey now in the hands of dealers. It will probably be reconsidered.

It is not probable that any more prisoners will be released from Alexandria, as those now in custody have refused to comply with the condition required.

37th Congress—2d Session

WASHINGTON, 26th.

SENATE.

Petitions for the passage of a bankrupt law, and for the liberty of the press, were presented.

Mr. Latham read an extract from the Detroit Tribune, which said, that a curious document had been found, showing that there was a league formed in Michigan for the purpose of overthrowing the Federal Government; that it is dated October 5th, 1861; and says the league is doing a noble work in Maryland and among the soldiers at Fortress Monroe; that Ex-President Pierce was among the most influential friends of the league; and that the document is now in possession of the State Department.

Mr. Latham also read a letter from Ex-President Pierce, dated March 4th, saying that an article was published in the Boston Journal of Saturday evening, the substance of which had been before published in Michigan. The subject was not new to him (Pierce), for he had corresponded with the Secretary of State on the matter as early as last December. He asks Mr. Latham if he would offer a resolution asking for the correspondence with the Secretary of State; for such an imputation ought not to rest on any man.

Mr. Latham offered a resolution that the Secretary of State transmit to the Senate copies of all the correspondence between W. H. Seward, Secretary of State, and Ex-President Pierce, having reference to the supposed conspiracy against the Government.

Mr Chandler said he knew there was such a letter. The writer of it was Dr. Hopkins. There was such an organization, and it was very wide spread at the commencement of the war. The knights of the golden circle thought they would be very patriotic, and go into the army; and to his certain knowledge they had succeeded in getting a large number of the worst traitors into the Federal army, and they were there now

Mr Howard said he knew there was such a letter, as he had seen it. He suggested that the Senator frame his resolution, so as to include that letter.

Mr. Latham said he only wanted to find out whether any man who was Ex-President of the United States was engaged in any such conspiracy, or not. He made the resolution read so as to include all other papers, and it was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Trumbull the joint resolution offering aid to the States in case of emancipation of their slaves, was taken up, the question being on the substitute offered by Mr. Davis yesterday. After a debate Mr. Davis's amendment was disagreed to—yeas 4; nays 34. The yeas were Davis, Henderson, Powell and Wilson.

Mr. Henderson offered an amendment to this effect provided that nothing contained in the resolution shall be construed to imply willingness, on the part of Congress, that any of the States shall withdraw their allegiance, but it is hereby declared to be our intention to prosecute the war until the Constitution is restored in every State. Rejected. The resolution was postponed until to-morrow.

Mr. Anthony offered a resolution that the thanks of Congress be given to Gen. Burnside and officers and men; also a resolution of thanks to commander Rowan. Referred.

The Senate then took up the bill for the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Wilkinson spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. Saulsbury's amendment for distributing the slaves among the Northern States was unanimously rejected

Mr. Pomeroy offered an amendment that commissioners make a just and equitable settlement of accounts between the master and so called slave, allowing the master all reasonable compensation for supplies and clothing to the slave upon disability, and to allow the slave for services and labor performed, &c. The further consideration of the bill was postponed.

The Senate went into executive session.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. Stevens of Pennsylvania briefly exposed what he thought [illegible] as the fallacy of the report of the committee. It was made to appear that Mr. [illegible] had $140,000 in his [illegible] session, when he never had a dollar in his hands.

Mr. Fenton of New York asked, but failed to obtain leave, to introduce a resolution instructing the committee on the conduct of the war to inquire into the deprivation of shelter of large bodies of our troops belonging to the army of the Potomac for days and weeks, in consequence of orders to march being made and countermanded again and again, and who is responsible for their needless suffering and exposure.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the tax bill.

Among the amendments made was a proviso that the tax on goods, wares and merchandise manufactured pursuant to contract, under the act, shall be paid by the purchasers before the delivery thereof.

Several sections of the bill were acted upon, when the committee rose.

Mr. Rice of Massachusetts, from the Naval Committee, reported a joint resolution appropriating fifty thousand dollars to enable the Secretary of the Navy, to test the plans and materials for rendering ships and floating batteries invulnerable.

Adjourned.

THE TENNESSEE RIVER EXPEDITION. A correspondent of the Missouri Democrat, who dates from Savannah, Tennessee, describes the expedition under Gen. Grant to be one of mammoth proportions, including more men than have been brought under one command since the war; and that this expedition has now arrived thus far on its way, and is within striking distance of the enemy. He says:

The progress of the expedition up the river to this point was hailed with enthusiasm by the people along the banks. There are few villages between Fort Henry and this place, in fact none of any consequence, but at all the different landings there was an enthusiastic crowd at the bank, who as the steamers approached gave vent to the most boisterous demonstrations. There was no doubting the fervor of some of these proceedings. In some places they had the stars and stripes waving. It was generally supposed that we should be more or less annoyed by rifle shots from the shore. The general loyalty of the people may be inferred when I add that although there were numerous localities where the sharpshooters could have taken deadly aim at our pilots, but one solitary shot was fired into the fleet in its transit of one hundred and fifty miles from Fort Henry hither. This shot wounded one man on the steamer Argyle

Savannah, from which I now write, is a little village of two or three hundred inhabitants, in Harding, one of the southern counties of the State.

The most formidable array of steamboats ever seen even in St. Louis or New Orleans, is now anchored on either side of the river, fronting Savannah. There are already about eighty boats here with more to come. The fleet comprises some of the largest boats navigating our western waters. The effect of this great demonstration upon the people along the river, as may be expected, is immense.

As yet, little is known of the whereabouts of the enemy. Numerous small armies seem to be scattered about fifteen or twenty miles to the south of us, and at various small places in No. Alabama and Mississippi. It seems that they have from 60,000 to 75,000 men scattered about in this way, which could be concentrated in 24 hours.

BOOTS AND SHOES

PLUMER'S PATENT ANATOMICAL LASTS!

[From J. V. C. Smith, M. D., formerly Mayor of Boston.]

PLUMER'S PATENT BOOTS.

The Undersigned has worn a pair of these IMPROVED Boots, and feels grateful to the Inventor for the comfort derived from them. The nice adjustment of the sole to every part of the under surface of the foot, is an important circumstance which seems to have been entirely overlooked till Dr. Plumer planned his Last and Boot upon truly scientific principles.

Those who have once had an opportunity to test the real advantages of these Philosophically made Boots will hardly be reconciled to wear any other.

J. V. C. SMITH

Boston July 26, 1861

J. C. PLUMER, M. D.

Dear Sir. I am greatly delighted with your newly invented boots which I have worn during the past winter and only wonder that the world should have been so stupid as not to have made the discovery half a century ago. Any one with a grain of common sense and a moment's reflection cannot fail to see that your "PATENT BOOTS AND SHOES are perfectly adapted to the foot (that wonderful piece of Nature's Mechanism) giving to every portion of it a full and equal support, and I am sure that those who once make trial of your new invention will never go back to the old fashioned boots or shoes, which are so prolific of Corns, Bunions and a thousand other troubles. Your Patent Boots" seems to be part and parcel of our Physical structure supporting the foot & duly giving steadiness to the gait and promoting human comfort to an eminent degree especially in walking over rough surfaces.

I wish I knew some means by which I could make known to every man, woman and child in Christendom the nature and importance of your Invention. Very truly yours,

M. REIS MATTSON M. D.

Portland July 12, 1860

DR. PLUMER—

Dear Sir. Having learned the principle upon which your Anatomical Last" is made, I was favorably impressed as to its efficiency in relieving a difficulty which all have experienced who have to walk considerably viz severe pain in the feet after much walking. After having worn the boots made upon the "Anatomical Last" I found my anticipations more than realized. I can walk nearly all day without experiencing the above named difficulty in the least degree. I also escaped the torturing process of breaking in my boots, for they were as easy at first as after they had been worn.

Truly Yours, C. H. BURBANK, M. D.

FOR all of which it is a speedy and certain remedy and never fails. This Liniment is prepared from the recipe of Dr. Stephen Sweet of Connecticut, the famous bone setter and has been used in his practice for more than twenty years with the most astonishing success.

AS AN ALLEVIATOR OF PAIN it is unrivalled by any preparation before the public, of which the most skeptical may be convinced by a single trial.

This Liniment will cure rapidly and radically RHEUMATIC DISORDERS of every kind and in thousands of cases where it has been used it has never been known to fail.

For NEURALGIA it will afford immediate relief in every case however distressing.

It will relieve the worst cases of HEADACHE in three minutes and is warranted to do it.

TOOTHACHE also will it cure instantly.

For NERVOUS DEBILITY and GENERAL LASSITUDE arising from imprudence or excess this Liniment is a most happy and unfailing remedy. Acting directly upon the nervous tissues, it strengthens and revivifies the system and restores it to elasticity and vigor.

FOR PILES. As an external remedy, we claim that it is the best known and we challenge the world to produce an equal. Every victim of this distressing complaint should give it a trial, for it will not fail to afford immediate relief, and in a majority of cases will effect a radical cure.

QUINSY AND SORE THROAT are sometimes extremely malignant and dangerous but a timely application of this Liniment will never fail to cure.

SPRAINS are sometimes very obstinate and enlargement of the joints is liable to occur if neglected. The worst case may be conquered by this Liniment in two or three days.

BRUISES, CUTS, WOUNDS, SORES, ULCERS, BURNS AND SCALDS yield readily to the wonderful healing properties of DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT when used according to directions. Also, CHILBLAINS, FROSTED FEET and INSECT BITES AND STINGS.

Every Horse Owner

should have this remedy at hand for its timely use at the first appearance of Lameness will effectually prevent those formidable diseases to which all horses are liable and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

[illegible]
AND
BLOOD RENOVATOR,

is precisely what its name indicates for while pleasant to the taste it is revivifying, exhilarating and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skilfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature and hence soothe the weakest stomach and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science and also by all who have suffered from debility, for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness and all that class of cases so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Fluor Albus or Whites. Also Irregularities, and Irregular [illegible]. Also, Derangements or torpidity of the Liver and Liver complaints, diseases of the kidneys, scalding or incontinence of the urine or any general derangement of the urinary organs, pain in the back, side and between the shoulders, predisposition to slight colds, hacking and continued cough, emaciation, difficulty of breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say it will not only cure the debility following chills and fever, but prevent all attacks arising from Miasmatic influences, and cure the disease at once if already attacked. And as it acts directly and persistently upon the biliary system, arousing the liver to action, promoting in fact all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water, hence all travelers should have a bottle with them and all should take a table spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits—students, ministers, literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will they will find an agreeable, pleasant and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty, for beauty cannot exist without health and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then again the cordial is a perfect mother's relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it this cordial is all we claim for it. Mothers try it. And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters, before it be too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former from false delicacy often goes down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal, for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need. Messrs W. E. HAGAN & Co Troy N. Y.—Gents. The happy result attending the use of Heimstreet's Inimitable (in every sense of the word,) Hair Restorative, seems to demand that I should give my testimony that other ladies might profit by it. I have never used a hair preparation that I liked so well. It has completely restored every hair that was grey to the color it was in girlhood and has brought it out thick and healthy. I was induced to use the article by Mr Reynolds, your Agent here. If this letter will be of service you may publish it.

Very respectfully yours,

AND testimonials new and almost without number, might be given from ladies and gentlemen in all grades of society whose united testimony none could resist that Prof Wood's Hair Restorative will restore the bald and gray, and preserve the hair of the youth to old age in all its youthful beauty.

BATTLE CREEK Mich Dec 21, 1858

Prof Wood—Thee wilt please accept a line to inform thee that the hair on my head all fell off over twenty years ago, caused by a complicated chronic disease attended with an eruption on the head. A continual course of suffering through life having reduced me to a state of dependence I have not been able to obtain stuff for caps neither have I been able to do them up in consequence of which my head has suffered extremely from cold. This induced me to pay Briggs & Hodges almost the last cent I had on earth for a two dollar bottle of thy Hair Restorative about the first of August last. I have faithfully followed the directions and the bald spot is now covered with hair thick and black, though short. It is also coming in all over my head. Feeling confident that another large bottle would restore it entirely and permanently, I feel anxious to persevere in its use and being destitute of means to purchase any more I would ask thee if thee wouldst not be willing to send me an order on thine agent for a bottle and receive to thyself the scripture declaration—the reward is to those that are kind to the widow and the fatherless.

Thy friend SUSANNAH KIRBY

LIGONIER Noble Co Indiana, Feb 5 1859

Prof O. J. Wood. Dear Sir. In the latter part of the year 1852 while attending the State and National Law School of the State of New York my hair from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly so that in the short space of 6 months the whole upper part of my scalp was almost entirely bereft of its covering and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana my more casual acquaintances were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my appearance as my more intimate acquaintances were to recognize me at all.

I at once made application to the most skillful physicians in the country but receiving no assurance from them that my hair could again be restored, I was forced to become reconciled to my fate until, fortunately, in the latter part of the year 1857, your Restorative was recommended to me by a druggist as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. I tried one bottle and found to my great satisfaction that it was producing the desired effect. Since that time I have used seven dollars worth of your Restorative and as a result have a rich coat of very soft black hair which no money can buy.

As a mark of my gratitude for your labor and skill in the production of so wonderful an article I have recommended its use to many of my friends and acquaintances, who I am happy to inform you are using it with like effect.

Very respectfully yours, A. M. LATTA,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium and small. ## SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN
Best Mechanical Paper in the World
SEVENTEENTH YEAR

VOLUME VI—NEW SERIES

A NEW VOLUME of this widely circulated paper commences on the first of July. It is published WEEKLY and every number contains sixteen pages of useful information and from five to ten original engravings of new inventions and discoveries all of which are prepared expressly for its columns

To the Mechanic and Manufacturer

No person engaged in any of the mechanical or manufacturing pursuits should think of doing without the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN. It costs but four cents per week, every number contains from six to ten engravings of new machines and inventions which cannot be found in any other publication. It is an established rule of the publishers to insert none but original engravings, and those of the first class in the art, drawn and engraved by experienced persons under their own supervision.

To the Inventor

The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is indispensable to every inventor as it not only contains illustrated descriptions of nearly all the best inventions as they come out, but each number contains an Official List of the claims of all the Patents issued from the United States Patent Office during the week previous; thus giving a correct history of the progress of inventions in this country. We are also receiving every week the best scientific journals of Great Britain, France and Germany; thus placing in our possession all that is transpiring in mechanical science and art in these old countries. We shall continue to transfer to our columns copious extracts from these journals of whatever we may deem of interest to our readers.

Chemists, Architects, Millwrights and Farmers

The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN will be found a most useful journal to them. All the new discoveries in the science of chemistry are given in its columns, and the interests of the architect and carpenter are not overlooked; all the new inventions and discoveries appertaining to these pursuits being published from week to week. Useful and practical information pertaining to the interests of millwrights and mill owners will be found published in the Scientific American which information they cannot possibly obtain from any other source. Subjects in which planters and farmers are interested will be found discussed in the Scientific American; most of the improvements in agricultural implements being illustrated in its columns.
